CROMO

The intercultural Crossborder Module – CROMO – for European Language Portfolios (ELP) is the joint work of a team of writers from three border regions: Austria, Italy and Slovenia.

It was designed by experts and teachers for shared use and to supplement existing ELPs focusing on the key aspects of interculturality and metacognition.

Purpose of Cromo

CROMO is meant to:

- help enhance the value of existing national ELPs
- link schools in border regions
- revalue intercultural and interregional experiences
- develop language strategies and competences
- give flexible support to different needs and interests of pupils aged 15 and over in a variety of teaching situations.

Most of the CROMO activities could be used also with reference to other countries, with different crossborder situations.
