Udine, 1 August 2010

I am pleased to tell you that the European Union has granted co-funding for a three-year project, EUNoM (European Universities' Network on Multilingualism), until the end of October 2012.

During these three years we shall be looking into the complex relationship between multilingualism on the one hand, and the knowledge economy and information society associated with the process of globalisation. Our project has a website which we invite you to visit: <http://eunom.uoc.edu>

The first topic "Language teachers: training for a new paradigm" is already on the website, and will lead up to the symposium in Udine on September 7-8. We would be delighted if a representative of your organisation could attend the meeting.

Yours sincerely,

Silvana Schiavi Fachin
C.I.P. representative
